Since Coffee has become an article of food, as well as a luxury, in every household in the Christian World, and 'the revolution of the old way of buying "Green" instead of "Roasted," has passed away, we all recognize one fact, and that is the wish to be absolutely certain that our selection of

The principal necessity for making a cup of good Coffee, is, of course, good "Coffee"; this might seem a superfluous statement, but, in reality, it deserves to be kept in view by the consumer, considering the substances now used in the markets of the World, to change the appearance and cheapen the Coffee. The adulteration of Coffee, both green and roasted, and the vast scale on which it is practiced, are well known facts. To make the choicest of Coffee and have it fragrant, clear and delicious, you must use some egg. As good a way and one that will give you splen Congress passed bills forfeiting the attention of our farmers. Those did satisfaction, is to empty a Package of Pinkerton's Oriental Coffee into a pan; beot up light, part or whole of an egg, stir the egg into the Congress passed bills forfeiting the attention of our farmers.

following: Oregon Central, 810,000 who have threshed report a large (the way mother did); set the pan in a quick oven until the egg is baked, when your Coffee is ready for the mill, coffee pot and table without further heretofore accumulated in the Treas- acres; Texas Pacific, 10,500,000, and yield of wheat and an average crop attention. In this way you have the highest result attainable and positive knowledge of the absolute purity of your Coffee. In early days it was not considered healthful to drink strong Coffee, but during the last two or three generations it has become an established fact. that it is better for the consumer to use "Coffee" made strong and drink a less quantity. For example, take the soldier during the Civil War, and he will tell, his coffee ("Army Coffee" which was always strong and allowed to boil one or two minutes only) made the meal, the bacon, "(S. B.") beans, crackers, &c., only going to "fill up."

At the majority of breakfast tables, if the Coffee is good, everything else is good. If you want the full benefit of the delicate aroma or caffeone in the Coffee, put the Coffee in a cup or pan, before grinding, and set it on the stove or in the oven for a few minutes, this will concentrate the oil or caffeone, and dissipate, partially, any odor the Coffee may have absorbed. Coffee is very much like butter, which absorbs all surrounding odors. In placing Pinkerton's Oriental Combination Coffee (put up in one pound packages only) on the market, we do so after many years of careful study experience, both in this country and Europe.

We have gone to considerable expense in building, not only our own special machinery, but have bought all modern improvements known to the Coffee Trade, and we do not hesitate saying, we have the best and most complete arrangement in the World for both cleaning and Roasting Coffee. Having a full complement of office help, we take on the Roasting of Coffee at an actual expense only, of labor required, this saving enabling us to use a much better grade of green Coffee in our "Oriental" than is generally used by Roasters in their package Coffee.
